Level G®

No more rides on the energy rollercoaster! Level G promotes healthy glucose metabolism* for sustained energy, all day long!

Why You? Why Univera?

Modern day food processing has dramatically altered the amount and type of carbohydrate in our diet, contributing to blood sugar problems for many North Americans. Healthy blood sugar metabolism is something we all should be concerned with, as it affects weight management, immune health, circulation, and overall health.

Level G represents the latest breakthrough in metabolic maintenance in one convenient formula that includes today's most effective botanical and trace mineral compounds.*

“Before Univera, I had been having more health issues because of getting older. Also, my blood sugar levels had been becoming harder to control with diet and exercise. I took Level G and it made all the difference and now I will never be without it. Also, I have been taking many other Univera products and I am feeling younger all the time.”
